

MAKING THINKING VISIBLE

Ron Ritchhart, Senior Researcher at Harvard Project Zero, was invited to Reuther Middle School on October 28, 2013, to share his Visible Thinking research with our parent community. As Reuther teachers continue to embed thinking routines in their classrooms, it is our hope that parents will encourage additional Visible Thinking discussions at home by using the “9 Apps For Parents” handout as a guideline.

After viewing both videos – “Creating a Culture of Thinking” and “9 Apps For Parents” – please share your thinking with the Reuther community by participating in the “I Used To Think, Now I Think” thinking routine below. Email this completed form to cgambaro@rochester.k12.mi.us or print it and return it to the main office.
